“Deep, rich, savoury and seamless with fine silky tannins, a meaty complexity, a warm oak infusion, deep red fruits, bright spices and a hint of chocolate.”

“Black raspberry, violet and sexy spices on the nose. Supple, pliant and fresh, with a deep spiciness to the lush black fruit flavors. Very sexy, sweet wine with lovely breadth of flavor and a long, ripely tannic finish. 91 points

“Ripe, dense and flavoursome with intense black cherry and spice flavours. Dangerously drinkable wine that ranks among the best from Central Otago..... Good structure and cellaring potential.”

95 points.

“A bold but beautifully balanced expression of Pinot Noir that shows Grant Taylors almost zen-like affinity with the varietal. Curvy and plush, rippling with dark fruit and couverture chocolate and finishing with powdery tannins.

Gourmet Traveler Wine Feb/March 2009

“Central Otago wine, power plus pleasure, big rich and hedonistic with cherry, plum and spice aromas and flavours, good texture and concentration, firm rubbery tannins and an assertive finish. One to cellar.”

Graham Barrow

“If you want to discover why there is so much hype surrounding Pinot Noir from Central Otago, this should answer you questions: this is benchmark regional wine made in tiny volumes. It is rich and powerful with intense dark cherry and spicy characters. A wine with texture, structure, balance and cellaring potential.”
